Aviation

A SPECIALIST AVIATION TEAM

We are a multicultural, multilingual broker, headquartered in London - the leading centre for global aviation insurance - with regional offices worldwide.

Our team of industry experts has an average of 20 years' knowledge and experience in advising clients on global markets and trends and in consistently delivering effective solutions of the highest quality and service.

The Aviation Division's client base reflects the global scale and scope of the aerospace industry, from private jet operators to space risks, international flag carriers to sub-component manufacturers, airport operators to finance and leasing houses.

We have been at the forefront of dealing with the ever increasing impact of EU and UK Sanctions on our client base and insurers. Importantly, as we have no US parent company, shareholders or US affiliates we are not directly affected by US Sanctions as some of our competitors may be.

A FOCUS ON SERVICE

Personal client service is the foundation of our success. A dedicated team, available 24/7, led by a senior account director supports you at every stage of the insurance process from programme placement to mid-term adjustments. Our extensive experience in handling complex aerospace claims, which has included fatalities, is reassuring and sensitive and is designed to support and protect your business and reputation at a critical time.

The ethos of UIB, from the very beginning, has been client focused: listening carefully to clients' concerns and their requirements, striving to meet those needs and delivering the appropriate products and professional service. All functions at UIB, including claims, are carried out under one roof and not outsourced. This allows for excellent internal communications and quick response times to clients.
